The collector has been collecting DPRK for many years and he is only one of a few collectors who also visit the country often and even visit the country's stamp printing plant. Which explains why he has, in this collection, miniature sheets that have 10 stamps only, where the normal sheet size is 50. These have not been seen anywhere else. At least one stamp he has in this collection, the DPRK postal museum does not have this stamp, of which there are only 2 mint known and a few used in existence. The collection is housed in 10 binders on hingless album pages. There may be a few (less than 10) that are still not filled. Needless to say these stamps have few in existence. An interesting note was that this company did not own any lots in the 1866 Directories at the Settlement but appeared first time in the 1868 Directories. 1867 should have been their first year of operation in Yokohama. Lyon cds (Oct 23) on back. The use of the anchor in diamond of dots killer was also a known marking on the ship Alpee. The lower part of the letter sheet is not present but the destination is very clear from the markings on the back, where there is a Marseille A Lyon cds (Apr 3) and Lyon cds as arrival on the same date. The cover was most likely sent to Lyon. Endorsed per Messr. Imperials. This cover was not recorded by Matsumoto in his book The French Post Office in Yokohama (1997) where he listed all the covers that he has recorded after the Great Fire of 1866 November 26 damaging much of Yokohama and parts of the foreign settlement including the French PO destroying its obliterated. Which was why Salles had suggested that the ship Alphee had given 1 of 2 of its anchor in diamonds of dots killer to the Yokohama French PO to use. Matsumoto listed a cover that had the same date of Feb 14 with Yokohama French PO marking that could be traced to be used on board Alphee, but this was cancelled by the anchor in BLUE ink. This cover offered here illustrated that there were indeed 2 anchor obliterated and these were in use simultaneously with 2 different inks. The anchor in the Yokohama PO was used in black ink on the same date where the anchor on board Alphee was used with the blue ink. The 90c marking represent the military concession rate of 90 cent where the civilian rate was normally 1 franc. This was re-directed on arrival with 4 different Paris cds on back dated Sept 16 and 17 with one in blue and a postman marking 8 over 15 in circle. This is addressed to Madame Munier at Boulevard de Montparnasse 57. Colonel Munier was from the Second French Military Mission to Japan. He arrived in Yokohama only 2 months before this cover was sent on May 27 where he started to work and lecture at the Japan Army Ministry. According to Matsumoto's record, of the 20 to 30 surviving covers in the Munier correspondence, the earliest cover sent was on June 2 shortly after his arrival. This cover was very similar looking to the Munier cover illustrated as the lower cover in Matsumoto's book on page 117, even down to the redirection markings on the front of both covers. That Matsumoto illustrated cover was sent exactly 1 month after this cover on Aug 29, but was from Shanghai where Munier had travelled to visit. Of interest was the fact that Munier should have been allowed the Military concession rate of 90c, but both covers were paid the full civilian rate of 1 franc. Also of interest was on the back of this cover, the direction to Madam Munier's new address was Impasse des Gendames 17, Versailles, which was different from Matsumoto's recorded street number of 15 for her new address. Of important historical significance for the French military in Yokohama.
